

This week in the Boarding House

Dear Parents and Pupils,

As this week comes to an end, the King's Coronation preparations get underway!

On Tuesday night, our boarders watched a movie (Night at the Museum) while snacking on popcorn.

The nerf gun battle was held on Wednesday night, and it was a lot of fun! In addition to last man standing and zombie vs. humans, we also played freeze tag and capture the flag.

Before the end, pupils were asking for this to be repeated the following term. I'm happy to announce that Nerf Gun War 2.0 will return on Wednesday 28th June. Although we ask that you bring your own nerf gun, if you don't have one, don't worry, we have spares.

We began the weekend celebrations with a small Coronation disco on Thursday evening. We had fun playing musical chairs and limbo. The pupils were extremely competitive!

In order to give us more options for supper, Jenson, our House Captain, created a menu. This week, Rico and Jenson both assisted in preparing the chicken and cucumber pasta that was his first suggested meal.

We are delighted to be able to involve the pupils as much as we can.

Even though the week was brief, it was a lot of fun.

We look forward to your return on Tuesday and wish you a good weekend.

Best Wishes,
Mrs Warwick-Smith
Boarding House Parent
